

Camilo Mejia & Coffee Strong Fundraiser

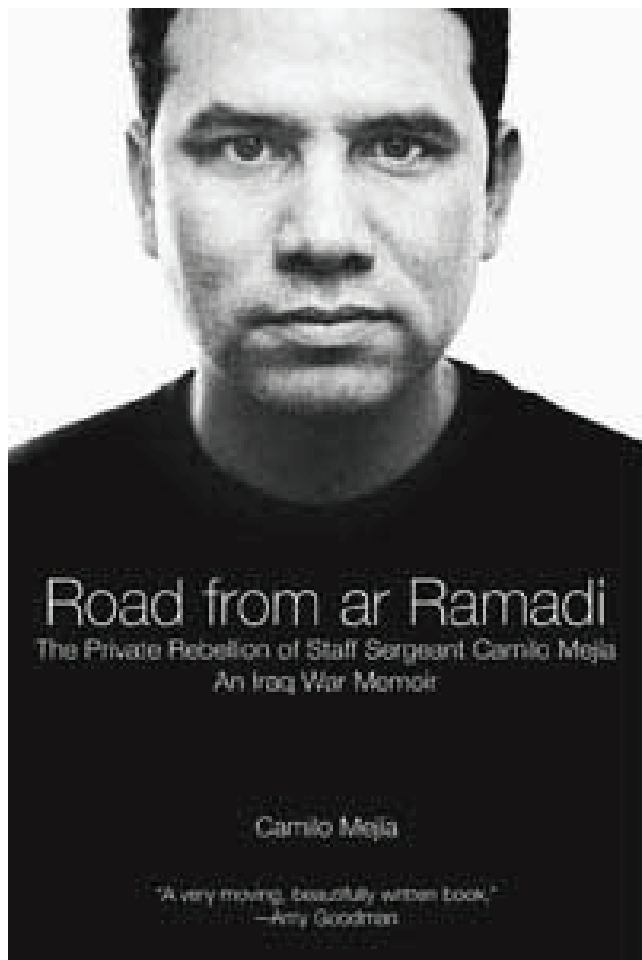

Friday November 7th at First United Methodist Church
621 Tacoma Avenue S, 7pm to 9pm - doors open at 6:30pm

An organization of recent vets and civilian supporters, G.I. Voice, is planning on opening an internet café called Coffee Strong near the gates of Fort Lewis. The café will provide area soldiers with a much-needed hangout away from the military base as well as providing G.I. Rights Counseling, alternative information, and connections to other resources.

To help support this project, Camilo Mejia will be speaking here in Tacoma and promoting his memoir, Road From ar Ramadi.

Army Staff Sergeant Camilo Mejia became the new face of the antiwar movement in early 2004 when he applied for a discharge from as a conscientious objector. After serving in the Army for nearly nine years, he was the first known Iraq veteran to refuse to fight, citing moral concerns about the war and occupation. His principled stand helped to rally the growing opposition and embolden his fellow soldiers.

To endorse this event or for more information, please contact Alex Bacon at info@givoice.org or 206.214.8823

$8 in advance at givoice.org, $10 at the door
No one turned away for lack of funds.